

Building Disciples Cross-Culturally in

SOUTH WEST SYDNEY

CHESTER HILL ANGLICAN CHURCH IS IN AN ONGOING PARTNERSHIP WITH CHRIST CHURCH ST IVES

PAUL & BETH WEBB

NATHAN & JEN CHEUNG

SOUTH WEST SYDNEY CONTEXT

Population: 1.12 million

Faith backgrounds:

- Roman-Catholic 20%
- Islam 6%
- Greek Orthodox 6%
- Buddhism 5%

Gospel Challenges:

- With increasing cultural diversity in the area over the past thirty years, many churches have not adapted for cross-cultural gospel engagement and had to close

Gospel Opportunities:

- People from over 140 language groups represented in the region waiting to be reached with the good news of Jesus
- Strengthening churches in culturally-diverse suburbs

In 2016, Nathan Cheung & Paul Webb, with their wives Beth & Jen and their children, launched a multi-cultural, multi-generational church plant in Chester Hill. The Cheungs and Webbs, are seeking to reach out to the 25 000 people who live in the Chester Hill region of South-West Sydney.

More than 140 different language groups from many different faith backgrounds are represented in the South-West Sydney region. To the glory of God, the Cheungs and Webbs have a vision to reach people who have come to live in Sydney from all the nations and see them built up as disciples of Christ through their ministry at Chester Hill Anglican.
